PRESIDENT'S WELCOME ADDRESS

Dear Delegates

I am greatly honored and pleased to welcome you as Coordinator of the Network of Learning and Teaching Centers in Greek Universities to the 1st International Conference of the Network of Learning and Teaching Centers in Greek Universities: Transforming Higher Education Teaching Practice.

This Congress is one of the means through which we are fulfilling the mission of the Network to advance learning in higher education. We partner across Greece and the broader academic community to catalyze and sustain change that supports learning at all levels, for all learners, and teaching for all teachers.

The Network plays a leading role in engaging in conversations nationally and internationally and collaborations with experts from abroad who study and promote learning in higher education.

I hope this Congress provides you with a forum to exchange fruitful ideas, inspire new research, and new contacts for closer cooperation, so that we can, together, envisage the future of a promising development of Learning and Teaching in Europe.
